For the most part, Boulder County students attend institutions through high school in either the Boulder Community or the St. Vrain Valley School District.

Last year, completion rates were 64 percent and 65 percent, respectively, and study abroad programs are available. Would our students benefit if they could go to school somewhere else?

Grantee Spotlight: Boulder County Area Agency on Aging

In Boulder County, 45,000 residents are age 60 or older and some 6,000 senior citizens are unable to get to medical appointments. The Boulder County Area Agency on Aging ("CASA"") Program provides bus transportation and volunteers for our seniors under the "Senior Link" program. "Senior Link" is the only program in the area that provides free transportation services and allows our seniors to access medical services.

Leadership Fellows Spotlight:
Brian Crippen, Boulder County Farmers Markets

According to our new Boulder County TRENDS report, 47% of last year's participants who were contacted who rated our Leadership Fellows Program had joined a community health initiative as a result. In total, 53% of our participants rated their leadership skills as better than a year ago and 83% said they would recommend the Leadership Fellows Program to others.

It's Denver Startup Week! ... and EFCO is there!

Since 2010, the Community Foundation of Boulder County (ECFC) has been working with startup companies in Colorado to make significant impacts on their communities by setting goals 1% of early equity and profits go to a community foundation. Earlier this year we co-launched the Denver-based new national partner program, Pledge 1%.

2015 Ambassadors Happy Hour
At our first Ambassadors Happy Hour, held at Studio Boulder, we brought together people interested in learning more about the Community Foundation, and we learned what some of them about community. See our photon booth on Facebook.
